

Sinclair Broadcasting's decision to force their stations to air an anti-Kerry documentary days before the election is an example of the inherent problems of media consolidation.

When large companies control the airwaves, we do not get what's needed for our democracy.

Sinclair's actions show why we need to strengthen media ownership rules. The license renewal process needs to involve more than a returned postcard. Thank you for listening to my opinion.